Astronomy Club: The astronomy club is proud to present the model of the solar system. The model represents all 8 planets in our system. To scale all the planets relative distances based on these sizes would require the planets spread out from here to Ardrossan!!! While you will notice that Pluto (formerly the ninth planet) is missing from this model, there is a predicted 9th planet located at least 10 times further away from the Sun than Neptune that Astronomers are currently looking for. Later this week keep your eyes posted for clues to find the elusive 9th planet in our model (located somewhere in Sherwood Park). Find this "hidden planet" and you could win 2 tickets to the movies at Galaxy cinemas! Good luck planet hunters. Enjoy the video on the big screen in the foyer to learn a little bit about your cosmic backyard...and for scale, the screens represent only 1/20th the diameter of the sun!!!

Model UN: if you missed yesterday's meeting and are interested in a MUN hoodie, see Johnson ASAP.
